PROCEEDINGS.

Of a meeting of the friends of the Union and Emancipation of the city of Louisville and the county of Jefferson, held at Odd Fellows Hall, on the 9th of February, 1864.

Mr. David L. Beatty called the meeting to order, and proposed Mr. James Speed as President of the meeting, who was elected by acclamation.

On taking the chair Mr. Speed explained the object of the meeting to be the appointment of delegates to the Freedom Convention which is to be held in this city on the 22d of February, and the organization of all those who unite in the support of the Union, and in the conviction of the necessity of the extinction of slavery.

On motion, Mr. George Foerster was chosen Secretary.

The proceedings were then opened with prayer by the Rev. J. H. Bristow.

On motion it was resolved that the chair appoint a committee of five to report to this meeting the names of twenty-five delegates, being five from each representative district of the city and county, to represent the same in the Twenty-second of February convention.

The chair appointed Messrs. J. S. Nadall, J. P. Gaillbreath, L. N. Dembitz, Wm. Judah and Geo. A. Houghton.

During the absence of the committee, Mr. Jas. C. Hill, and Rev. J. H. Bristow addressed the meeting.

The committee returned and reported, as an amendment to the resolution appointing them, that five delegates be appointed for the city and county at large, which being adopted, the following list was reported:

For the city of Louisville and county at large—James Speed, Geo. Foerster, J. H. Bristow, Wm. P. Thomasson and Wm. E. Glover.

For the First Representative district of the city of Louisville—Wm. B. Richardson, John R. Chambers, Fred. Frische, Dr. F. Ross and T. S. Nadall.

For the second Representative district of the city of Louisville—Silas F. Miller, Henry C. McDowell, Lewis N. Dembitz, James C. Gill and Dr. A. Von Donhoff.

For the Third Representative district of the city of Louisville—Theo. S. Bell, Richard H. Rousseau, John Tompkins, Dr. S. Brandeis and Jack Fry.

For the Fourth Representative district of the city of Louisville—Robert P. Baird, J. Ephr Vanzant, Geo. A. Houghton, B. F. Avery, and E. A. Pross.

For Jefferson county—Robert Ayres, Andrew Hickey, Arthur Cary, Henry Jones and John J. Norris.

On motion, the name of Mr. Edgar Neelham was added to the delegates for the city and county at large, whereupon the reports of the list of delegates was approved by the meeting.

On motion, it was further

Resolved, That the friends of the Union and of emancipation here assembled embrace the opportunity offered by this meeting to initiate a thorough party organization for this city and State.

Resolved, That with this view the president of this meeting be requested to appoint an "Unconditional Union Executive Committee" of seven members for Jefferson county, which is to have the ordinary powers of such committees to call meetings and conventions of the party.

Resolved, That it be the especial duty of said committee to confer with the Kentucky delegates to the 22d of February convention upon a speedy organization of the party throughout the State, and in conjunction with them to establish a State central committee.

On motion of Mr. L. N. Dembitz, it was

Resolved, That this meeting most cordially approves the conduct of Messrs. Lucien Anderson, Brutus J. Clay, Green Clay Smith, and William H. Randall, in voting for the Hon. Schuyler Colfax for Speaker of the House of Representatives and supporting the Administration in all measures necessary for the suppression of the rebellion, and thereby reflecting the true sentiments of the great majority of their constituents.

On motion of Mr. J. E. Vanzant it was

Resolved, That we distinctly and utterly condemn the action of our own representative, Robt. Mallory, in associating with the Peace Democracy in Congress, as wholly repugnant to the feelings of the overwhelming majority of his constituents.

On motion, the President was empowered to appoint a committee of five, himself to be its chairman, to make all necessary arrangements for the meeting of the convention on the 22d inst.

It was further resolved, That the Secretary be ordered to publish the proceedings of this meeting in the city papers and in the Frankfort Commonwealth.

Whereupon the meeting adjourned sine die.

JAMES SPEED, President.

GEORGE FOERSTER, Secretary.

Capt. Unthank, of the 11th Kentucky Cavalry, on a scout with a detachment of his regiment, on the 4th instant, overtook a band of rebel guerrillas, under Rogers, in the neighborhood of Monticello, and a spirited fight with them ensued; in which Rogers was killed, and the band dispersed.

The La Fayette, Indiana, Courier has the following notice of Mr. Jesse D. Bright, late a Senator in Congress from Indiana:

We learn from a gentleman, who met Jesse D. Bright at Kent Station, White county, a week or ten days since, that the distinguished ex-Senator has greatly modified his views on the rebellion. It was refreshing to hear him talk of the inexhaustible power and resources of the North, in connection with the inevitable overthrow of conspirators. He yields to the inexorable logic of events on the slavery question, and doubts if the peculiar institution can possibly be restored to its former position and security, even in those sections where practical abolition is not already an accomplished fact. He says the South staked the institution upon the fortunes of war, and having lost in the desperate chance, must abide the result.

DEBATED CLAIMS.—Complaints are quite numerous about the slowness with which claims of deceased and discharged soldiers are disposed of. By official documents we learn that, during the year 1862, 13,100 claims were settled at the Treasury Department. The number settled during the year 1863 was 4,700. There remains on hand unsettled, January 1st last, 74,600. By the middle of August next, all claims now in the Second Auditor's office, when the evidence can be obtained, will be settled. But as a bill passed the House giving increased facilities, which will doubtless be soon concurred in by the Senate, the cases delayed will, in a great measure be removed.

COMPOUND

GEDRON BITTERS.

The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century.

NO MAN'S name is more intimately connected with the history of the Materia Medica of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in Medical discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL, of Louisville, Ky. His inimitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug. His Compound Extract of Wild Cherry, has become a household word throughout the West and South; and his Worm Lozenges, less than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remained to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters now offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian bids defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handles, without fear, the most venomous serpents. It is a belief with them that while there is breath left in the body, the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is, nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all diseases arising from exposure, either to changes of weather and climate, or to the miasmatic influences, it stands without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the 11th edition of the U. S. Dispensary, pages 1377 and 1385.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper distilled Bourbon whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might furnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give them one trial, and you will never use any others.

It is not necessary to publish a long list of diseases for which the Cedron Bitters are a specific. In all diseases of the STOMACH, BOWELS, LIVER, OR KIDNEYS;

In all affections of the BRAIN, DEPENDING UPON DERANGEMENT OF THE STOMACH OR BOWELS;

IN GOUT, RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

And in FEVER AND AGUE;

It is destined to supersede all other remedies. It not only cures these diseases, but it PREVENTS them.

A wine glass full of the Bitters taken an hour before each meal, will obviate the ill effects of the most unhealthy climate, and screen the person taking it against disease under the most trying exposure.

A CARD.

To the Members of the General Assembly: GENTLEMEN Will you permit a suggestion, before you adjourn, by one who has little or no pecuniary interest whatever in what he recommends, and in all probability may never have. He is only desirous of doing justice to the parties and to the State.

It is this: You have two Statute Laws in relation to the Public Printing and Public Binding that causes much difficulty to both those officers, without any material saving to the State, or convenience to the people of Kentucky. The two acts to which I refer are—Chapter 359, page 50 of last session act, approved December 23, 1861, and Chapter 525, page 73 of the last session act, approved March 14, 1862.

As I understand the two acts, taken together, none of the laws passed at the present session can be bound and forwarded to the counties, after the adjournment of the present session, until you meet again at the January session, 1865.

If the members of the General Assembly will refer this subject to a committee of either of the two Houses, I hope to be able to satisfy that committee that both of those acts should be repealed and another adopted which will be of great convenience to your Public Officers, elected to perform the duties of Printer and Binder, and of very great interest to the State.

A. G. HODGES.

By the Congressional proceedings of the 11th, we observe that Mr. Samuel S. Cox, of Ohio, has enrolled himself in the Fernando Wood party fully and squarely; and made a speech advocating Wood's principles. Probably, he only does so to show that he "did not approve, but condemned Wood's peculiar views."

Johnson's New Illustrated Atlas. We are gratified to be able to state that our friend Rev. A. R. Mace, who is the agent for this invaluable work, is meeting with great success in obtaining subscribers. He has obtained the names of some of the most distinguished literary men, not only in our town and county, but also in other parts of the State, as patrons to the work. No one can give it even a cursory examination without being struck with its completeness and great value.

The Louisville Journal says, by its course in defending Gen. G. C. Smith from the Journal's abuse, the Commonwealth enrolls itself under the Abolition banner! The Journal defended the Vallandigham ticket last summer, and advised the Union men of Ohio to vote for it. "Of course, by this very conduct" then and since, the Journal "enrolls itself under the secession banner" with Vallandigham, the Woods, and all who are for withholding men and money to crush the rebellion and preserve the Government. "This fact reduces the" Journal's "abuse of" the President, Gen. Smith, Mr. B. J. Clay and the Commonwealth, "to the level of the ordinary" traitors' "slang." "As such we dismiss it."

We learn from the Nashville Union, that some eight or ten days since, Gen. Payne sent out some cavalry from Gallatin, Tennessee, on a scout through counties bordering on Kentucky; and about the same time Col. W. B. Stokes's cavalry regiment left Nashville, to co-operate with Gen. Payne's men. Payne's men killed thirty-three, and captured sixty-three rebel guerrillas; Stokes's men killed seventeen, but took no prisoners. Amongst the prisoners was Col. Thos. B. Murray; and among the killed Capt. James Davis, who had on his person a copy of an oath of allegiance to the Federal Government, certified by Col. Stanley Matthews, formerly Provost Marshal of Nashville; also $3,000 in Confederate money, and a brace of revolvers. The villain Champ Ferguson was in a close place, but finally escaped. It is mentioned as a singular fact, that some of the prisoners, or killed, were armed with guns. All had revolvers, some of them as many as three. Thus armed they could pass through the country and be citizens or guerrillas as they might choose.

A Bait to catch Conditional-Union Gadabouts!

The following resolutions are reported to have been introduced into the rebel Congress on the 4th inst. They are intended as a snare to lead Fernando Wood, S. S. Cox, and genus omne:

"Whereas, The President of the United States, in a late public communication, did declare that no propositions for peace had been made to that Government by the Confederate States, when in truth such propositions were prevented from being made by the President in that he refused to hear, or even to receive two commissioners appointed to treat expressly of the preservation of amicable relations between the two Governments; nevertheless that the Confederate States may stand justified in the sight of the conservative men of the North of all parties and the world may know which of the two Governments it is that urges on a war unparalleled for ferocity of conflict and in intensifying into a sectional hate, unsurpassed in the annals of mankind. Therefore,

Resolved, That the Confederate States invite the United States through their Government at Washington to meet them by representatives equal to their Representatives and Senators in their respective Congress at — on the — day of — next to consider, first, whether they cannot agree upon a recognition of the Confederate States of America. Second in the event of declining such a recognition, whether they cannot agree upon the formation of a new Government, founded upon the equality and sovereignty of the States, but if this cannot be done, to consider, third, whether they cannot agree upon treaties offensive, defensive and commercial.

The Louisville Democrat mentions that a little boy about four years of age was locked up in a house in that city by its parents, while they went to a grog shop and got heavily drunk. While they were drinking at the shop, some persons passing by their house heard the screams of the child, and on breaking the door open found him enveloped in flames, and so badly burned that his life is despaired of.

STEAMER BLUE WING, No. 3, Feb. 12, 1864.

This beautiful boat, built expressly for the Kentucky river, and under the command of Capt. Robert Holton, is now fairly in the Cincinnati trade and is doing a splendid business. But it is not of the financial success of the boat that we have anything to say, for our acquaintance with it was in an excursion where pleasure was the only thing sought for. And in this view of the subject, we can safely say, that every thing was done by the officers of the Blue Wing to render our trip agreeable. The table, under the management of old Uncle Charles Buckner, (of African descent) was truly sumptuous. The state rooms were all comfortable and neat, and the attention of the servants respectful and constant. In addition to these attractions, there was "music and dancing and chatting with the beaux" in any quantity. We can not quit the boat without in this public manner, expressing our thanks to Capt. Phillips, temporarily in command, and to Mr. Pendleton and Mr. Yoder Brown, chief clerk and second clerk, for the courtesy and civilities extended to us, and we confidently commend the Blue Wing as everything a steamboat ought to be, either for business or for those who travel for pleasure only.

The Louisville Resolutions.

As a number of the members of the Legislature have applied for copies of the resolutions adopted by the Convention at Louisville, in March, 1863, we reproduce them. They are as follows:

1. Resolved, That this Convention approve and endorse the principles embodied in the joint resolutions upon Federal affairs adopted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth at this late session, hereby affirming the same.

2. Resolved, That the present causeless and wicked rebellion should be crushed by the whole power of the Federal Government and the national authority restored over all the revolted States. And we are in favor of devoting our whole resources, if necessary, to the accomplishment of that object.

3. Resolved, That we are opposed to the intervention or mediation of any foreign power in our present troubles, preferring to settle our own difficulties in our own way, and all propositions to that effect which may be made by any foreign State or nation ought to be respectfully but unequivocally declined by our Government.

4. Resolved, That the people of Kentucky have suffered insult and injury at the hands of the so-called Southern Confederacy, and are stimulated by every motive of interest and honor to oppose and overthrow it. This Confederacy has sought and now seeks to break up the Union, forever dear and necessary to them, and when by their often repeated decisions they refused to join in the work of treason, infamy, and ruin, it trampled down their State Constitution, put up a weak and usurping Governor over them and pretended Senators and Congressmen in its conclave at Richmond, assuming to speak their voice; it invaded their State armies and sought to conquer and carry away from a Union they revered to one they detested; it ravaged by bands of marauders, not soldiers, their fields, time and again, robbed them of their public revenues and private property, destroyed their public records, burned their towns and houses, carried away their non-combatant citizens into long and loathsome imprisonment, where many still languish, murdered many of them, sometimes in their own homes and in the presence of their families, and sometimes by cruel and infamous deaths, extending these atrocities even to women and children, thus setting at defiance all the laws of civilized warfare; and these efforts have continued and increased with the increasing aversion of the people of Kentucky to all its wicked designs, and now threaten to break with fresh force upon that State and people; that therefore the people of Kentucky can never cease their efforts for their own protection, the condign punishment of the authors of these wrongs, and the complete overthrow of the rebel confederacy; and all citizens of Kentucky (if any there be) who refuse to support their State and fellow-citizens against such unpunished wrongs and cruelties, or profess to sympathize with such enemies, are false to their allegiance to friends, neighbors, State, and nation; that, nevertheless, of one thing the people of the revolted and the loyal States and of the world may rest assured, Kentucky "will submit to such a despotism when she has no power to resist it."

5. Resolved, That it is the duty of the Federal and State Governments to take timely and energetic steps for the defense of the soil of Kentucky against invasion, the people from further plunder and ruin; and we earnestly invoke their attention to the subject, at the same time calling upon all the citizens of the State to second every effort in this behalf.

6. Resolved, That our thanks are due and are hereby tendered to our gallant soldiers in the field for the brave and devoted manner in which they have hitherto upheld the ancient renown of Kentucky, and bid them "God speed" in the noble work of defending the honor of our flag, and preserving the Constitution and Union, assuring them of our cordial, united and unaltered support, and the praises of a grateful country. That we feel also the profoundest veneration for the memory of the brave Kentuckians who have fallen in the great struggle for the Union, and the deepest sympathy for their surviving relations, whose just claims upon the country are hereby gratefully recognized.

We learn from Richmond, Virginia, papers that a Baker named Heinse had been arrested, under a charge of being connected with an organization to assassinate Jeff Davis, burn the rebel public buildings, and release the Federal prisoners. John C. Breckinridge has been sent to relieve Sam Jones in Southwest Virginia. The Richmond Whig states that information had been received of the arrest and imprisonment of Robert Toombs by order of Beauregard. Robert Ford, some years since Editor of the Owensboro, Kentucky, Democrat, has been convicted at Richmond of murder, and sentenced to eighteen years confinement in the penitentiary.

FALMOUTH, Ky., Feb. 11, 1864.

Mr. Editor: The Copperheads in Kentucky are on the verge of rebellion if they can't have things precisely their own way. Disguise it as they may, this is their feeling, and this is their determination, if they can only get the power, a few men, who have been sent to the legislature, as loyal men, have become snapping copperheads. They vainly think they can rule the people. The people will show them something better — The people are grateful for the protection which they have received from the Federal Government and even from Mr. Lincoln if you please. Had it not been for this protection commenced in 1861, they would have been ruined, ere this. If the Southern Confederacy could have gotten its arms around our noble State, we should have been crushed to death. The only thing that prevented this fatal grasp, was the Federal Government. To-day we stand upright and are prosperous. No thanks to the rebels and rebel sympathizers of every grade and shade in Kentucky. Long ere this would they have had Kentucky in rebellion, if they could have had their way. Many went to Dixie to fight for their rights. Some of them soon got tired, and have some sneaking break; still rebels at heart, and in association they belong to the "non-resistance-and-no-money" copperheads of the North, such as Vallandigham, smart Samy Cox, Wood & Co. They are a by-word and a reproach to loyal people.

There is a great deal of talk and much ado, about the poor negro. Who made the negro the question? Rebels in arms against their Government. He who draws the sword, must die by the sword. He who makes the negro the question, in this contest, must die by the negro. But the negro must not fight! Loyal men in Kentucky don't want the negro to fight, if they can help it. But you, rebel sympathizers, why need you complain? Do you enlist? Do you encourage your sons to enlist? When you do this in earnest and good faith, then it will be time enough for you to complain about negro enlistments.

The rebellion must be put down. So say the loyal people of Kentucky. If it is not put down one way, it must be in another. This is the decree of heaven, fight against it who may. The stronger, and the more determined, the blows, the better. If you, as an individual, have a sturdy man to whip, the more power with which you inflict the blows the better. What would you think of a by-stander who would say, while the issue between you and your antagonist, is life and death: "For God's sake! don't strike so hard! you will hurt him! He will never be your friend again!" What heed would you give to such admonitions, in such a trial? None at all, say you. So say we, in regard to this struggle with armed rebels. Let the blows go thick and strong until the rascals cry enough! So say the loyal people of Kentucky! And they further say to you, Mr. Commonwealth, go ahead; we will stand by you. PENDLETON.

Decision of the Court of Appeals.

THE CRIME OF SEDUCTION.

Commonwealth, Appellant, vs. Francis Baldwin, Appellee, Appeal from Gallatin Circuit Court. The grand jury of Gallatin county indicted Dr. Baldwin for the seduction of a young lady in that county. Upon the trial, counsel for Baldwin demurred to the indictment on the following grounds, viz:

1. There is no statute, in Kentucky, providing for the punishment of seducers. 2. The common law provides no punishment for this offense. The circuit court sustained the demurrer, and dismissed this indictment.

The attorney for the Commonwealth, appealed, for the purpose of getting the opinion of the Court of Appeals on the question—and for the additional purpose of having the attention of the Legislature called to the fact that, by a strange omission, there is no law punishing seduction, in Kentucky, while this crime is severely punished in, perhaps, every other State in the Union.

The Court of Appeals have decided that there is no statute law prescribing or punishing seduction; also that the offense can not be punished in Kentucky by the common law.

We would respectfully, yet earnestly, call the attention of our Legislature, now in session, to the importance of passing a law severely punishing seducers. We see no reason for allowing such persons to go unpunished. We have no doubt that the failure of the Legislature to provide for the punishment of such scoundrels, would be construed by them into a tacit license to continue their seductive practices.

The crime of seduction ought to be made a felony. Simpson and Scott for Appellant. Col. J. J. Landram, for Appellee.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 16, 1863. On the 22d of July last I submitted, through an agent of mine, to the Medical Director of the Department of the Cumberland a sample of my Codron Bitters for his inspection, and requested if, after analysis he found it meritorious, to sanction and approve its use among our soldiers.

The following is the Medical Director's reply, and also Gen. Rosecrans' permission to ship 300 dozen at once to have it sold to Soldiers.

A VOICE FROM VICKSBURG.

"Vicksburg, Miss., Aug. 9, 1863.

"Dear Sir—I am happy to state you that I have used your valuable Codron Bitters, with great benefit to myself, in general debility and prostration of my system, produced by the unhealthy and miasmatic influences of the Mississippi River and around Vicksburg, having been with Gen. Grant's army throughout its whole southern campaign. I confidently recommend its use to all persons who are exposed in unhealthy climates. H. W. FOGLE, "Agent U. S. Sanitary Commission."
